

A Message to Saskatoon Transit Customers

Bus service may end at 9:00 p.m. Saturday.

The City of Saskatoon, and the union representing Saskatoon Transit, have yet to reach an agreement on a new contract. The union rejected the City's final offer. Transit workers may be off the job starting on Saturday.

We understand that a service disruption could affect your daily commute and make it more difficult to get around the city. Like you, we hope that an agreement can be reached before bus services are cancelled.

Access Transit services will continue to operate as normal.

As an essential service, Access Transit will not be affected by transit workers off the job. Customers will be able to book and ride Access Transit as normal.

All other Saskatoon Transit customers should make other arrangements for Saturday night as bus services could end at 9:00 p.m.
